

Wool Lamb Jackets

Features:

- 100% recycled wool with cotton stitching
- Biodegradable as well as reusable
- Environmentally friendly
- Water resistant and breathable
- Encourages growth

Product Information:

Designed to protect new-born lambs and kids from hypothermia, promote higher growth rate with minimal disruption to mother and new-born bonding. These cost effective lamb jackets will stretch as the animal grows and provide a breathable thermal layer from the elements- even when wet.

Made from 100% recycled and fully biodegradable wool felt, these practical lamb jackets are environmentally friendly and reusable with raw cotton stitching to maintain optimum fit and easy donning. Protect your flock from unnecessary hypothermic losses and enjoy the benefits of all that energy intake going into growth rather than maintaining body warmth.

Made in New Zealand.
